

The Power of Two

Make a difference Become a Mentor

While incarcerated, many prisoners simply grow more hardened in their criminal mindsets. The negative influences around them make change an uphill battle, but their odds of transformation improve dramatically with the help of a dedicated in-prison mentor.

Aleph Institute mentors are regular people from diverse backgrounds, encouragers who go into correctional settings to develop one-on-one relationships with an inmate of their same gender. With authenticity, gentleness, and respect, they model G-dly attitudes and behaviors for their mentees. They also help prepare an inmate for transition back into the family, synagogue, and community, by helping them establish goals, learn life skills, and grow towards greater maturity. Mentors demonstrate commitment and genuine care along the long-term road to transformation.

Turn your life experience and caring into an opportunity for an inmate to change. Let Aleph Institute give you everything you need to become an in-prison mentor.

Read more and enrol at: www.alephne.org/mentor

THE ALEPH INSTITUTE
Hyman & Martha Rogal Center
 5804 Beacon Street, Pittsburgh, PA 15217
 412-421-0111 f: 412-521-5948
www.alephne.org e: info@alephne.org

ALEPH INSTITUTE
 No One Alone,
 No One Forgotten.

In-Prison Opportunities

Take love and warmth behind prison walls. With caring, commitment, and training from Aleph Institute, you can help inmates navigate the road to transformation

Community Volunteer Opportunities

The challenges of a prison sentence don't stop at the gate. With a heart of compassion and training from Aleph Institute, you can help ex-prisoners struggling to return to the community as productive citizens, and you can offer hope to families coping with a loved one's incarceration.